

Student Friendly Attendance Policy

			Sometimes you get ill and cannot come to college.
			Your parents or carers should telephone the college to let them know if you are not coming into college.
				If your family want to take a holiday in term time they need to first ask the principal.
			Some students come into college on public transport or transport provided by college or by carers.
 phone	 college			If you travel by yourself and you are going to be late you must phone college to let them know.
				If you attend as much as you can, you will be able to learn and spend time with friends.
